PRESIDENT FIRM FOR SHIP BILL

Makes It Plain He Expects Passage Before Congress Adjourns.

CONFERS WITH LEADERS

Declares Emergency for Which the Measure Was First Conceived Has Not Passed.

President Wilson yesterday made it plain that he expects Congress to pass the government ship purchase bill before adjournment. Hopes for an early set-aside sank. Prospects for a stiff party row in the House and Senate were the measure brightened.

There is gloom at the Capitol. With the conference report on the Clayton bill yet to be disposed of, and every indication of a lengthy debate on the war revenue measure, which the Finance Committee has not yet reported out, the Senate already had its hands full to get away around October 15.

The line-up against the Alexander ship purchase bill in the House promises to be almost as stiff as that against the canal toll measure. Two of the President's strongest supporters in the canal tolls fight—Representatives Adamson, of Georgia, and Sherley, of Kentucky, are against the measure. Majority Leader Underwood, on the other hand, supports the bill. Speaker Clark, who added excitement to the tolls fight by exploding what might have been a bomb against the administration at the eleventh hour, is yet to be heard from. Representative Sherley, their apparent Mr. Underwood's leadership in the House, again is aligned against the White House.

President Firm for Passage.

President Wilson yesterday conferred with leaders of both sides. He informed them frankly that he believes the emergency for which the measure first was conceived, has not passed, and cannot pass in the immediate future. Chairman Alexander, of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, author of the bill, and Majority Leader Underwood, first talked to the President, after which Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, and George C. O. P. Leaders Against Measure.

All the Republican leaders in the House are said to be against the measure, which is expected to meet a strong Republican opposition with the exception of middle western and intermediate Representatives, many of whom supported the toll exemption repeal measure. The Progressives have not indicated how they will vote, but the measure is expected to determine the question.

President Wilson has made it clear to callers that he hopes to build up a large and powerful party support, largely through the movement which he believes the enactment of the proposed legislation will start.

GUNS OF CATTARO FORTS SINK FRENCH WARSHIP

and history will call me the Peace Kaiser," the speaker is quoted as saying. The following were given out today as official information:

"The reserves of the Reichsbank last week increased $5,000,000 marks. Treasury notes decreased by $1,000,000 marks. Copenhagen, Sept. 28.—An official dispatch from Berlin says that the response which the German nation has made to the financial condition of the empire. According to German military authorities the war is costing Germany $5,000,000 a day.

NO DAMAGE TO FORTS.

Vienna, (via Berlin and Amsterdam), Sept. 28.—The French and British warships that attempted to bombard Cattaro have suffered heavy damage and forced to withdraw, according to a dispatch received from Lieut. Field Marshal Novak, commander of the Austrian troops in Dalmatia.

He states that little damage was done to the forts, but that when the enemy sailed away heavy smoke was rising from two ships, indicating they had been set on fire.

ARMY READY FOR ITALY.

The Austrian fleet has been concentrated at Pola and will soon sail to give battle to the allied fleet. Large forces of troops have been gathered there. Though Italy may maintain her neutrality, very precaution is being taken to prevent a sudden invasion. This is the reason for the concentration of troops at Pola.

It is announced that sporadic attempts by the Russians to get through the Hungarian passes have been repulsed and that the campaign against Serbia is proceeding successfully.

Manchester, Mass., Sept. 28.—Dr. Konstantin Dumba, the Austrian Ambassador, today received the following wireless from Count Berchtol, the Austrian foreign minister:

"The situation in the northern and southeastern theater of war is unchanged. The favorable information published by our enemies concerning victories of troops have been gathered and sent to the front in Galicia to fight the Russians."

OLD MEN CALLED OUT.

Chisasso, Switzerland, Sept. 28.—The last class of Austrian reservists consisting of old men, has been called out and sent to the front in Galicia to fight the Russians.

The steady advance of the Russians upon the Przemysl and the ability of the Austrians to check the Muscovite invaders has demoralized the Austrian troops.

They left Saturday night the scene was one of the most pitiful and tragic that war ever presented to the Austrians. None of the officers in Vienna dared to leave the city, and the old men were burdened veterans left, but nearly the entire population watched them leave.

The most pathetic feature was the sight of old women clinging to their life partners. The sight of these old men being shipped to the front to help stem the Russian tide stirred the citizens of Vienna greatly.

Germany's annual revenue is $179,666,000.
